Sir:

PETITION TO THE DIRECTOR UNDER 37 CFR 1.181, TO REQUEST WITHDRAWAL OF HOLDING OF DEFECTIVE RESPONSE

Applicants received a Notice of Defective Response mailed June 13, 2005 (Exhibit A), stating, "Total additional claim fee(s) for this application is $805...$625 for 25 total claims over 20...$180 for multiple dependent claim surcharge."

Applicants assert, however, that there should be less than 20 claims in the Application, and no multiple dependent claim. As shown in the preliminary amendment filed September 21, 2004 (Exhibit B), accompanying the initial national phase submission, there is a single instruction: "Before calculating the fees for this Application, please amend the Application as follows: IN THE CLAIMS: Please cancel claims 6-24. . ."

U.S. National Phase of PCT Application
PCT/FR03/00955 (10/507,369)

In a telephone discussion with an employee in the Office of PCT Operations, Applicants' representative asked why this preliminary amendment was disregarded. The employee stated that this preliminary amendment would not be entered because it is "in French." Applicants note, however, that this preliminary amendment is not in French, although claims remaining in the Application after the cancellation are in French.

The regulations provide no authority for disregarding an amendment in these circumstances. To the contrary, "[a] preliminary amendment accompanying the initial national stage submission under 35 U.S.C. 371 that cancels claims and/or eliminates multiple dependent claims will be effective to reduce the number of claims to be considered in calculating extra claim fees . . ." MPEP 1893.01(c). Furthermore, an English language version of the application is not required in the initial national stage submission. 37 CFR 1.495(c). Holding that claims may not be cancelled here, when remaining claims are in French, deprives Applicants of the benefit of one of these regulations.

Following both of these regulations will not be an undue burden on the Office of PCT Operations. Applications often contain indecipherable material, even after translation into English, and the PTO routinely enters amendments in such applications; the refusal to enter the amendment in the instant application was arbitrary.

Depriving applicants of these regulations places an undue burden on the applicant that cannot afford multiple dependent claims in the U.S. It also places an undue burden on an applicant's representative who must use a PTO deposit account while not having his practice disrupted by erroneous charging of the deposit account¹ to pay for unwanted claims.

Thus, Applicants respectfully request that the Director instruct the Office of PCT Operations to follow the regulations and process the preliminary amendment filed in the initial national stage submission, even though remaining claims contain foreign language text.

Reg. No. 33,186

DATED: 27 June 2005

1. Fortunately for the representative in the instant case, at the time the PTO employee decided additional fees were due, there were insufficient funds in the deposit account to satisfy her assessment, and she issued the Notice of Defective Response instead of deducting from the deposit account. Had she deducted from the deposit account at that time, the representative's practice would have been disrupted, and an application handled by the representative could have gone abandoned.
